

Museum of Fine Arts (or Museum of Contemporary Art) Photographic Scavenger Hunt

Please keep your flash off inside the gallery.

Your Mission: You will be visiting the Museum of Fine Arts, or the Museum of Contemporary Art, independently. The permanent collection at Museum of Fine Arts is free if you are under 30. I suggest going with your group and visiting at least 2 different exhibition areas. Each group member is responsible for their own collection of photos.

1. Find a work that you consider a good metaphor for who you are – take a photo of you and the work
2. Find a work that you like only a particular part of – take a photo of the entire work and one of the part that you like
3. Find a work by an artist who was born in a place you have always wanted to or would like to visit – take a photo of the didactic panel
4. Take a photo of something that you would like to use as a source of inspiration in your sketchbook – consider actually doing something with it in your sketchbook!
5. Take a photo of a work you feel strongly about – this could be a strong like or dislike or strong emotional response in another way
6. Take a picture of an interesting work and write a surprising or funny caption for it
